

'No Fear Oil Painting' ONLINE WORKSHOP

Presented by Taos Plein Air Judge Lyn Boyer

Take the fear out of painting by embracing Lyn Boyer's smooth and approachable teaching of foolproof color mixing and basic brush control leading to masterful control of edges. Class will be an online Zoom meeting.

Friday July 10th, 9am-12pm
Sunday, July 12th, 1pm-5pm

Minimum 5 students - Maximum 8 students

Cost: $290.00

'Classical Gas', 8x10 plein air oil on linen
Embudo, New Mexico
© Lyn Boyer

- 1: Discover the beauty in your brushes by choosing your tools and controlling them masterfully, bringing new energy to your paintings through creative brush handling.
- 2: See color and paint color by unraveling the world of color and light, properties of pigments and pigment choices, while using both a limited and expanded palette. Foolproof color mixing and the nuances of grays will also be covered.
- 3: Master edges as the final touch by understanding the painting surface and paint application necessary for a higher skill level of edge control. Identify the how, when and where of edges, using them artfully to bring that final sense of freedom and nuance to your paintings.

Lyn is sorry that we can't meet together for our workshop, however the class size will be small. Participants will discover Boyer's award winning techniques bringing new energy to their paintings through creative brushwork, foolproof color mixing and artful edge control.

Lyn's workshop will be a Zoom meeting (Lyn will send out the invite so you can join).

- July 10th, 9-12, Friday: Instruction and demos start Friday morning July 10th: 9-12.
- Students will have time to work on new paintings the rest of the day and Saturday.
- Saturday night: photos of student's paintings are Dropbox'ed to Lyn Boyer (instructions to be provided).
- July 12th, 1-5, Sunday. Zoom Meeting. Critiquing paintings and further instruction.

'Parolek Garage & Machine Shop'
16x20 oil on linen
Taos, New Mexico© Lyn Boyer

Click www.papnm.org/event-3740276

to

